Objective:

1. To familiarize students with the functioning and organization of a Primary Health Centre.
2. To provide practical exposure to primary-level healthcare services and national health program.
3. To help students correlate theoretical concepts with field-based public health practice.

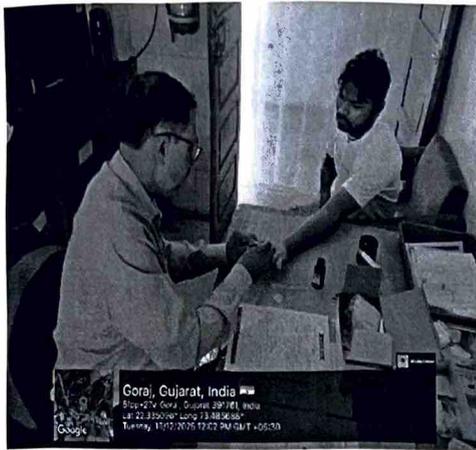

Activity Details:

The Department of Community Medicine, under the guidance of Dr. Pranali Mistry, HOD and professor, organized a Primary Health Centre (PHC) visit as a part of the departmental curricular activity for 3rd BHMS students to provide practical exposure to the functioning of primary-level healthcare services.

During the visit, students were oriented to the organizational structure, manpower, and service delivery system of the PHC. They observed various activities including outpatient services, immunization services, maternal and child health care, national health program implementation, and record maintenance. The medical officer and staff explained the role of the PHC in delivering comprehensive primary health care and its importance in the public health system.

Students also visited Goraj Anganwadi Centre where they learned about the functioning of Anganwadi, nutritious meal calendar, T-L methods used to teach the kids. They were made aware about the distribution of nutritious flour to kids, adolescent girls and pregnant ladies.

Glimpses of activity:

Outcome:

- Students gained a clear understanding of PHC structure, services, and functions.
- Improved awareness regarding implementation of national health program at the primary level.
- Enhanced practical understanding of community-based healthcare delivery.
