Internal Compliance Committee (ICC) Report

Parul University Faculty of Design

Date: 05-05--2025

Time: 11:00 AM

Venue: Dean Office, PID Building

Subject:

Deliberation on the complaint lodged by Complaint Submitted by Mr. Nakul Patel – PID,
Department of Communication Design

Respected Sir,

This is to formally submit the findings of the Internal Compliance Committee (ICC) in response to the complaint filed by Mr. Nakul Patel, Assistant Professor, PID, Department of Communication Design, regarding alleged harassment by Ms. Shweta Rai from the Department of Product Design.

The committee convened a meeting on 05-05-2025 where interactions were held with Mr. Nakul Patel, Ms. Shweta Rai, and selected faculty members from the Design Faculty to gather perspectives and assess the situation comprehensively.

Findings:

With respect to Mr. Nakul Patel:

- The Committee observed that Mr. Nakul Patel's direct escalation of the matter to the Registrar's Office, bypassing internal mechanisms, was not the ideal approach.
- Seeking early intervention, guidance, or conflict resolution through the Head of the Department would have been more appropriate.
- Mr. Nakul Patel is advised to utilize the presence of the newly appointed Dean for professional mentoring and future grievance redressal.
- Constructive dialogue within the department should be the first step before escalating issues to higher authorities.

With respect to Ms. Shweta Rai:

- The Committee found that Ms. Shweta Rai's behaviour at times appeared loud, aggressive, and not conducive to maintaining a professional and collaborative staff room environment.
- Her tone and approach during interactions with peers require more balance and restraint.

- A degree of over-familiarity and informal conduct with students was observed, which may lead to perceptions of partiality or boundary issues; this must be addressed.
- Ms. Shweta Rai is advised to maintain a professional demeanour and uphold institutional decorum in all interactions.

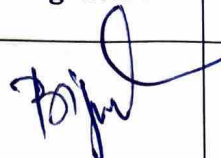

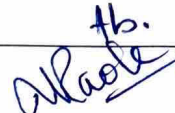

The Committee further noted that the absence of a Principal or designated Head in the Design Department at the time contributed significantly to the delay in resolving this matter, allowing tensions to grow unchecked. With the recent appointment of departmental leadership, the Committee believes such concerns can now be handled effectively within the faculty structure.

Recommendations:

- The Department Head for their mutual understanding and professional conduct should counsel both the faculty members individually and jointly.
- The Dean of the Design Department should establish a clear communication and grievance redressal framework within the faculty.
- Regular sensitization workshops on workplace behaviour and communication should be organized to maintain a healthy work environment.
- The ICC advises both parties to avoid further personal or unmediated confrontations and channel future concerns through official lines of communication.

The Committee believes this approach will help restore a harmonious and professional atmosphere in the department and ensure that conflicts are handled constructively moving forward.

Proceedings:

1. Statement by Ms. Geetika Bolla:

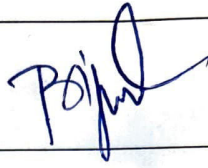

- Submitted a written complaint on 12th April 2025, citing inappropriate behaviour by Dr. Praveen.
 - Alleged behavioural issues started from January 2025, coinciding with the commencement of her internship.
 - Dr. Praveen was assigned as her mentor
 - Alleged that Dr. Praveen made her uncomfortable through inappropriate glances during lab work, calls made beyond university hours, and insistence on accompanying him alone for field trips and accompanied her on field visits for data collection.
 - Geetika mentioned that multiple students have faced similar concerns regarding Dr. Praveen's behaviour.
 - Her mother travelled from Kadapa, Andhra Pradesh to address the matter in person.
 - Following the complaint, a university-level committee was constituted to investigate the matter.
2. Statement by Dr. Praveen:
- Confirmed that he was mentoring six students, comprising five girls and one boy.
 - Clarified that during a specific field trip, the other student was unwell, hence Geetika went alone.
 - Denied all allegations of harassment and stated that professional boundaries were maintained.
3. Observations by Faculty Members:
- Dr. Arundhati Takre and Dr. Damini Joshi expressed concerns regarding Dr. Praveen's dominant behaviour.
 - Noted that his conduct was not aligned with departmental values and professional decorum.
 - Raised issues about sharing academic content selectively with Geetika and a few other students.
 - Recorded evidence of certain conversations was presented and reviewed by the committee.

Findings:

- The committee found substantial discomfort and concerns raised by the student to be credible based on the consistency of her written and oral statements.
 - Multiple faculty members supported the claim that Dr. Praveen's behavior and interaction style were problematic and not suitable for the academic environment.
 - Though no concrete evidence of direct harassment was established, behavioral patterns and boundary overstepping were noted as significant concerns.
 - The recordings submitted as evidence reflect a degree of preferential academic interaction that could create an imbalance in the mentor-student relationship.
