1. Introduction:

A one-day workshop on “Communicating Research Findings and Mixed Research Designs for Homoeopathy” was successfully conducted on 19th July 2025 at the Seminar Room, Parul Institute of Applied Sciences, Parul University. The event was organised by Jawaharlal Nehru Homoeopathic Medical College (JNHMC) with the aim of enhancing the research communication skills and understanding of research methodology among faculty members, postgraduate scholars, and interns in the field of Homoeopathy.

2. Inaugural Session:

The session began with a warm welcome and lighting of the ceremonial lamp. Dr. Poorav Desai, Principal of JNHMC, delivered the inaugural speech, highlighting the importance of research in Homoeopathy and the need to effectively communicate findings to both the scientific community and the general public. He emphasized integrating qualitative and quantitative methods through mixed research designs for evidence-based practice in Homoeopathy.

3. Resource Person:

The key speaker for the workshop was Dr. Prashant Tamboli, a renowned academician and research expert.

He delivered an in-depth and interactive session on:

- How to Communicate Research Findings Effectively
- Types of Research Reports and Publications
- Structure of Scientific Papers and Posters
- Principles of Mixed Method Research Designs
- Application of Mixed Methods in Homoeopathic Research
- Common Pitfalls in Reporting Research Results

Dr. Tamboli also shared real-life case examples and guided participants on publishing in reputed journals, enhancing clarity in research language, and presenting at conferences.

4. Workshop Coordinator:

The workshop was efficiently coordinated by Dr. Naresh Sonu Bhusara, who ensured smooth execution of all sessions and facilitated active interaction between the participants and the speaker.

5. Vote of Thanks:

The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Kirtida Ma'am, who appreciated the efforts of the organising team, the valuable insights of the speaker, and the active participation of all attendees.

6. Outcome:

The workshop proved to be highly informative and was well-received by participants. It enhanced their understanding of how to design, analyze, and report mixed-method research in Homoeopathy with clarity and academic integrity.
