Visakhapatnam will be Andhra capital soon: CM

New Delhi: Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy on Tuesday said the state capital will be shifted to Visakhapatnam.

Speaking at the preparatory meeting for the Global Investors Summit to be held in Visakhapatnam in March, he said he also would be shifting his office to the port city in the months to come.

"Here I am to invite you to Visakhapatnam which is going to be our capital in the days to come. I myself would also be shifting over to Visakhapatnam in the months to come as well," he told the investors at the meeting.

The N Chandrababu Naidu-led government in 2015 acquired over 33,000 acres of land from farmers to develop Amaravati as the capital of the state.

After Jagan Mohan Reddy took over in 2019, the state government wanted to have three capitals-Visakhapatnam-Executive Capital, Amaravati-Legislative capital and Kurnool-Judicial capital and passed an appropriate legislation.

The Jagan Mohan Reddy government passed a Bill in the Assembly in November last year, repealing the controversial AP Decentralisation and Inclusive Development of All Regions Act, 2020, which was intended to establish three capitals for the state.

Without putting any timeframe, Jagan, speaking on the floor of the Assembly said the government would come out with a "comprehensive, complete and better" Bill after plugging loopholes in the previous version.

In March last year, the Andhra Pradesh High Court ruled against the three capitals and directed the government to develop Amaravati as the state capital as envisaged. PTI

ty. "Disqualification is quite different and Election Commission's role is not in any way restricted by Tenth Schedule. Parallel proceedings are avoided in case of concurrent jurisdiction as there is possibility of two authorities contradicting themselves. Whatever happens on the floor of the House has no impact on EC proceedings," he said.

With majority of MPs and MLAs slipping away, the Thackeray-led faction had moved SC to stall proceedings before EC. The Shinde-led Sena on July 19 had initiated proceedings under Para 15 of Election Symbols Order, 1968, seeking to be recognised as the "real Shiv Sena" by EC and laid claim to the right to use the 'bow and arrow' symbol. The Shinde faction broke away from the Thackeray-led Sena and formed a government in Maharashtra with BJP after Thackeray resigned as CM of the MVA government in June.

HC deals with all allegations made by AAP against LG

The Delhi HC underlined that "so long as the impugned content continues to be in circulation and visible on social media, it is likely to cause continuing damage to the reputation and image of the plaintiff."

The court's interim order came on a suit filed by Saxena seeking to stop AAP and its leaders Atishi, Saurabh Bharadwaj, Durgesh Pathak, Sanjay Singh and Jasmine Shah from levelling false allegations against him and to direct them to delete or take down the content circulated and issued on social media against him and his family.

The AAP leaders had alleged that Saxena had received and channelised demonetised currency in November 2016 in his role as chairman of Khadi and Village Industries Commission (KVIC). The party had alleged that Saxena was involved in a Rs 1,400 crore scam.

In its interim order, the HC dealt briefly with all the allegations made by AAP and its leaders. It noted that the allegations that Saxena was involved in any acts of corruption at the time of demonetisation "are completely unsubstantiated" and added that even the amount, as mentioned in the CBI FIR, was Rs 17 lakh which has been exaggerated by the defendants many times over to a fanciful sum of Rs 1,400 crore.

Delhi high court's interim order came on a suit filed by LG Saxena

Regarding the allegation of AAP and its leaders that a contract of Rs 80 crore was given to Saxena's daughter while he was the chairman of KVIC, the high court said once again the allegations are "unfounded" and there is no material to show that an imaginary sum of Rs 80 crore has been paid to her for her professional services.

Justice Bansal further noted that "right to freedom of speech and expression is not an unfettered right in the garb of which defamatory statements can be made to tarnish the reputation of a person. The fundamental right to freedom of speech has to be counterbalanced with the right of the reputation of an individual, which has been held to be a basic element of the right to a life consecrated in Article 21 of the Constitution."

Vijay Nair, sources claimed, had emerged as a key figure when the CBI started probing how the middlemen and the liquor licensees named in the FIR were routing the kickbacks to the public servants.

"Reliable sources have revealed that Vijay Nair, former CEO of Only Much Louder, an entertainment and event management company, Manoj Rai, ex employee of Pernod Ricard, Amandeep Dhal, owner of M/s. Brindco Spirits and Sameer Mahendru, owner of Indospirit, were actively involved in the irregularities in framing and implementation of the excise policy," the FIR reads.

The CBI, it is learnt, is probing Nair's relationship with three other accused – Arun Ramchandra Pillai, Amit Arora and Mahendru. The FIR lodged by the agency mentioned Pillai as a middleman who used to collect money from Mahendru for "onward transmission" to public servants through Nair. "A person named Arjun Pandey once collected a huge cash amount of about Rs 2-4 crore from Mahendru on behalf of Nair," the FIR reads.

Arora, director of Buddy Retails, Gurugram, and accused number 9, is next on the CBI radar, said a source. The FIR alleges he is a close associate of Nair and Sisodia. Sources said that the investigators were looking into the balance sheets of Arora's company.

Focus on developing talent, avoid micromanaging staff

By R Swaminathan

Books Stephen Covey interestingly aligns trust to two tangible business outcomes — speed and cost. According to him, when trust becomes a casualty, speed nosedives and cost takes a spike, resulting in a 'low-trust tax'. On the other hand, high trust raises speed and brings down costs to deliver a 'high-trust dividend'.

So, how can we, as leaders and organisations, transform the way we define, practise and measure trust as we step into a world of hybrid work? Here are some ways to do that:

▶ Trust is being authentic: Placing on record the organisation's strong intent to trust employees is a critical first step to winning employee confidence. At every level, all leaders in the organisation must be authentic. In fact, an emerging authentic leader is better than an experienced non-authentic one. Douglas Conant, former president of Nabisco and CEO of Campbell Soup, declared this intent by starting a practice called 'Declaring Yourself'. With all his new direct reports, he would spend time on Day One explaining his beliefs and expectations. Equally important, he spelt out what his members could expect from him as a leader. It became a very successful practice of building trust.

▶ Understand & respect need for flexibility: There are two aspects to flexibility that we need to be aware of. One is based on the choice of time and place of talent. The other is to understand that we are in talent development for business, and not mere employee management.

The company must be willing to create an operating model that will embrace this flexibility. A distributed workforce is here to stay. For managers and team members, this is a great opportunity to focus positively on outcomes rather than micromanage on hours spent — which can significantly raise trust levels and productivity.

▶ Broken trust due to information asymmetry & generalisation: With remote and hybrid working being the norm today, an issue that plagues organisations is the question: 'How can I provide all critical information to my team so that there is no information asymmetry among them?' The absence of this is a great productivity killer in any company, as tons of time is spent on getting everyone to the same baseline. Virtualisation has further accentuated this issue. And so, in the new world of work, we must spend significant time to resolve this and build trust at all levels.

▶ Raise & re-define employee care: Organisations improved employee care during the worst period of the pandemic — in diverse areas such as health & emotional well-being, tools and resources, learning and development, rewards & recognition, employee engagement.

▶ Train managers to adapt to the new world: The most essential trait of the new manager is to be a peer coach. If we can create knowledge-based and 'first among equals' metrics, a number of future gaps will be bridged. Managers must know that the command-and-control mode will soon cease to exist, and 'impact-and-influence' will be the cardinal tool to embrace.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The University's Management is responsible for the matters with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the University in accordance with the Accounting Standards applicable to the University and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Gujarat Private Universities Act, 2009 for safeguarding the assets of the University and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the University's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the University or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The University's Management is also responsible for overseeing the University's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the University's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the University to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with the management of University regarding, among other matters, significant audit findings that we identify during our audit.

We also provide to the management of University with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by theGujarat Private Universities Act, 2009 in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Accounting Standards as applicable to the Universityand other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the University as at March 31, 2022, and its Excess of Income over Expenditure for the period ended on that date.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the University in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made there under and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified opinion on the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The University's Management is responsible for the matters with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the University in accordance with the Accounting Standards applicable to the University and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Gujarat Private Universities Act, 2009 for safeguarding the assets of the University and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the University's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the University or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The University's Management is also responsible for overseeing the University's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the University's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the University to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with the management of University regarding, among other matters, significant audit findings that we identify during our audit.

We also provide to the management of University with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To The Members of Parul University
Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Parul University ("the University"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2021, and the Statement of Income and Expenditure, the Cash Flow Statement for the year ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the University in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The University's Management is responsible for the matters with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the University in accordance with the Accounting Standards applicable to the University and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Gujarat Private Universities Act, 2009 for safeguarding the assets of the University and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the University's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the University or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The University's Management is also responsible for overseeing the University's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the University's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the University to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with the management of University regarding, among other matters, significant audit findings that we identify during our audit.

We also provide to the management of University with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Hence, the CEP may be permitted to offer such programmes by involving the Deans of concerned Faculties.
Item Number: 39	Revision in the syllabi of B.Sc in Film & TV Production
Resolution	The proposal was approved.

NOTE: It is observed that degree programmes with similar titles are offered in different faculties of the university. e.g. FHMCT offers BA in Culinary Arts when there is a separate Faculty of Arts offering BA programmes. So also the Faculty of Architecture & Planning offers PG degrees in Journalism and Management when those Faculties are already available. Hence, it is felt that there is a need to streamline the names of degree programmes offered by different faculties with those which focus only on their area of functioning/ specialization.

Notice

Sub: Mandatory Submission of Annual Quality Assurance Report (AQAR) by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of HEIs

NAAC advocates that every accredited institution need to establish an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) as a quality sustenance measure. NAAC intends IQACs to be more developmental oriented focusing on continuous improvement. NAAC has prepared Guidelines for Creation of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) and Submission of Annual Quality Assurance Report (AQAR) for Accredited Institutions.

So far submission of AQARs was not a mandatory requirement for institutions applying to NAAC 2nd and subsequent cycles of Assessment and Accreditation (A& A). It has now been decided by the Executive committee of NAAC that regular submission of AQARs should be made mandatory for 2nd and subsequent cycles of accreditation.

In view of the decision of Executive Committee of NAAC the following will be the pre-requisites for submission of LOI for all Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) opting for 2nd and subsequent cycles of A& A with effect from 16th September 2016:

- Having a functional IQAC.
- The minutes of IQAC meeting and compliance to the decisions should be uploaded on the institutional website.
- Mandatory submission of AQARs on a regular basis for institutions undergoing the second and subsequent cycles of Assessment and Accreditation by NAAC.
- Upload the AQAR's on institutional website for access to all stakeholders.
